

The Santa Monica Synagogue Genesis Theatre
In association with the Raoul Wallenberg Institute of Ethics
Presents

THE SURVIVOR

A Play by Susan Nanus
Based on the memoirs of Jack Eisner
Directed by Doug Kaback

The true story of a gang of teenage smugglers in the Warsaw Ghetto. First they smuggled food to feed their families. Then they brought in guns to fight for their lives.

TOURING TO COMMUNITIES – FALL 2011

A full production with a professional cast, a post-performance discussion with the actors and playwright, and educational materials about the Warsaw Ghetto.

In November, 2010, The Survivor performed to sold-out audiences during its run at the Electric Lodge Theater in Venice, CA. Here's what some people had to say:

"Personally, I believe The Survivor is our generation's Anne Frank."
– Joe Gonzales, Cal State Northridge student

"A fabulous, soulful play that reflects not only the challenges of the past, but gives us inspiration and lessons for the future – a must-see for Jews and non-Jews alike."
– Rabbi Miriam Hamrell, Ahavat Torah Congregation

"I lived the story of this play. Thank you for performing it on the stage."
– Sam Waizman, Warsaw Ghetto survivor

TO BRING THE TRAVELING PRODUCTION OF THE SURVIVOR TO YOUR COMMUNITY VENUE, CONTACT:
www.thesms.org/thesurvivor or call: 310.453.4276 or email: survivor@thesms.org